

CSIR-NISCAIR announces a Five-day Course on
Basics of Science Communication

Course dates:
5-9 September 2016

Course venue:
NISCAIR, 14-Satsang Vihar Marg, New Delhi-110067

Course contents:

- ☐ Science Communication & Popularization in India
- ☐ Science Writing for Magazines, Newsletters & Newspapers
- ☐ Principles of Research Communication in Journals
- ☐ Publishing & Copyright
- ☐ Creation of Information Resources, e.g. Encyclopaedic Publications, etc.
- ☐ Use of Modern IT Tools in Science Communication
- ☐ Initiation into Video Communication
- ☐ Role of Graphic Arts in Popular Science Communication
- ☐ Production & Printing of S&T Publication

Course Fee:

Participants from	Without accommodation	With accommodation
India	₹ 4800/-	₹ 6900/-
SAARC Countries	US $ 240	US $ 350
Other Countries	US $ 360	US $ 470

Target audience:

The course is aimed at aspiring science writers/communicators, scientists, public relations professionals in scientific and R&D establishments involved in writing/communicating about science, etc.

For more details, contact:

Head, Education and Training Division
 National Institute of Science Communication and Information Resources (NISCAIR)
 14-Satsang Vihar Marg, New Delhi - 110067

Email: training@niscair.res.in
Ph: 011-26863617, 011-26863521
Fax: 011-26862228